30 August – 4 September 2009

Convention Center Graz, Austria

The Microscopy Conference 2009 in Graz is joining up the “Multinational Congress on Microscopy” and the “Dreiländertagung” both having established a strong reputation as key events in the European and international microscopy communities. MC 2009 will continue this successful tradition in Graz, a city in the centre of Europe that has a long history in science, engineering and culture.

The scientific programme of MC 2009 will comprise plenary lectures, symposia, poster presentations, and tutorials. A high quality Trade Exhibition will be a main part of MC 2009 with a mixture of exhibits and technical workshops to enable delegates to interact with vendors and witness the latest developments in microscopy in the physical and life sciences, and nanotechnology.

It is our aim to encourage the participation of young scientists; therefore several fellowships will be offered and the conference fee for students will be below € 100,-.

There will be poster prize awards in different scientific fields.
